The Interval

(By Arthur Davison Ficke.)

Nothing changes in a day:
Even Love, that is fleet
When it lifts its flying feet,
Turns but gradually away.

Even Death, that comes so soon,
Lingers doubtful through the hours
Ere it covers up the flowers
With vague dusk and Spectral moon.

When the lengthened years shall pass
Finally to where the world
From its slumber shall be buried,
And life arise from the dim mass,

Then those who watch the night turn gray
Shall know why, patient, still did brood
Our hearts that hoped, yet understood
That nothing changes in a day.

RELIGIOUS AFFAIRS.

The regular business meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held in the parlors of the Y. W. C. A. Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. After the reading of the minutes and superintendent's reports, a woman physician will speak on the subject of "Health."

"Black Mammy's Revelry," by Mrs. Keenan, was greatly enjoyed. Mrs. McClure read of pioneer childhood, which brought back fond memories to many of those present. Delicious refreshments were served of cake and sherbet, after which the meeting was closed by a series of comic readings by Mrs. C. W. Bretz.

SHOWER FOR BRIDE.

Through the hospitality of Misses Myra Praier and Fannie Blakesley, the friends of Miss Ruth Coleman had an opportunity to shower her with gifts on Saturday afternoon. The downpour was so great that it pelted more of the nature of a cloudburst than an April shower.

There was an excellent musical program, followed by the reading of recipes by each guest on "How to Manage a Husband." Some of these were clever indeed, and the opinions were varied; yet all seemed to agree on the one point, "Feed him well." These recipes were compiled in book form as a souvenir of the occasion, for the bride elect.

The honoree's little niece, Ruth and Alice Lee Koger, assisted by little Katharine Holt, of Las Cruces, brought in large baskets filled with lovely gifts. Miss Coleman was very charming and gracious in her acceptance. She was quite pretty in a white embroidery gown.

Punch was served throughout the afternoon. An ice with cake finished the program.

The hostesses were assisted on this occasion by Misses Ida Hughes, Sally Blake, Belle Chaplin and Mrs. Elizabeth Koger.

The guests were:
Misses Praier, Blakesley, Shirley, Belle Chaplin, Tara Compton, Kate Roberts, Lucile Pierce, Helen Newell, Iduna Hughes, Ina Nelson, Carrie Seddon, Winifred Roe, Ethel Rowe, Ida Lockhart, Fannie Yeager, Alice Newcomb, Henning, Ross, Maciver, Gallagher, Anderson, Hazel Graham, Nell Taylor, Sarah, Berwick, Kinsey, Justine Newbrough, Emily Giddings, Edith Giddings, Flora Evans, Anne George, Sallie Blake, Gertrude Howes, Cora Schwarz, Sexton, Ruth Evans, Mary Gates, M. Miss Essie Darbyshire was the charming hostess on Saturday afternoon at seven tables of bridge. The home was particularly attractive with its decoration of lilies and roses, intermingled with ferns. The dainty score cards were hand painted in daisies.

WOMEN'S ORGANIZATIONS.

Mrs. W. R. Brown very delightfully entertained the members of the Thursday Lunch club last week on Saturday at her home on West Rio Grande.

The table was attractively set with green embroidered doilies. A basket of glowing pink sweet peas occupied the central position, while an atmosphere of spring time was suggested by the wealth of tiny pink roses scattered over the board.

The delightful courses of the menu further developed the color scheme.

The donation party given Monday afternoon by the Sunshine Workers at the home of the president, Mrs. Wm. H. F. Judd, was a most decided success.

FAMILY FOOD.

Crisp, Toothsome and Requires No Cooking.

A little boy down in N. C. asked his mother to write an account of how Grape-Nuts food had helped their family.

She says Grape-Nuts was first brought to her attention in Charlotte, where she visited.

"While I was there I used the food regularly. I gained about 15 pounds and felt so well that when I returned home I began using Grape-Nuts in the family regularly.

"My little 18 months old baby shortly after being weaned was very ill with dyspepsia and teething. She was sick nine weeks and we tried everything. She became so emaciated that it was painful to handle her and we thought we were going to lose her. One day a happy thought urged me to try Grape-Nuts soaked in a little warm milk.

"Well, it worked like a charm and she began taking it regularly and improvement set in at once. She is now getting well and round and fat as fast as possible and on Grape-Nuts.

"Sometimes ago several of the family were stricken with La Grippe at the same time, and during the worst stages we could not relish anything in the shape of food but Grape-Nuts and oranges, everything else nauseating us.

"We all appreciate what your famous food has done for our family."

Mrs. F. S. Hollington added to the pleasure of the afternoon with several readings and a recitation.

"Rosemary for Remembrance," a vocal solo, was very beautifully given by Mrs. Lella T. Moore.

Mr. Witt's tenor solo was especially pleasing and called forth hearty applause.

In addition to quite a sum of money donated the society a large collection of packages was received, containing all the materials necessary for supplying the babies' wardrobes.

The real work of the charity association for the care of the babies will begin Friday morning at 9:30 o'clock, when an hour and a half will be spent in sewing for the needy.

The affair was given by the members and friends of the Highland Park Baptist church. Mr. and Mrs. Sanderson were presented with a beautiful china dinner set, Mrs. F. Freeman making the presentation speech. Let us show you with what genius and scientific accuracy a new principal has been applied to make the Kryptok lenses perfect invisible bifocals.

You have seen people wearing a very conspicuous sort of bifocal glasses --the kind with divided lenses for near and far vision.

These glasses do not cause amusement, but they do provoke sympathetic curiosity. They give the impression that there is something the matter with the wearer's eyes--something uncommon.
